

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation. This is clear political propaganda right here in America.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, and do not provide objective programming as in this case, it threatens our democracy.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Thank you.
